

חומר באנגלית - הכנה למבחן באנגלית

Dear Applicant,

Thank you for applying for studies in the English Language and Literature Department at Oranim, Academic College of Education.

The attached documents have been compiled to give you an idea of the level of text on the department entrance exam. To prepare for the exam we suggest that you engage in a close reading of the texts. When doing so, identify main and supporting ideas using background knowledge and the structure of the text. On account of the important role that vocabulary plays in reading comprehension, study new words and chunks (e.g., goodness of fit, back and forth) by looking up items in the dictionary and committing them to memory.

Below you will find a link to a recommended site for practicing vocabulary. In general, we expect you to know the form and meanings of the 3000 most frequent word families of the English language*.
